

ABSTRACT

The Invention is a modular, flexible automobile turntable for installation on an uneven surface such as a residential driveway. A flexible track conforms to the surface of the driveway. A turntable deck is mounted for rotation on the track, the 5 deck comprising a central disk driven by a hydraulic gear motor and a plurality of flexible petals extending radially from the center disk.